

Mini Mustang Preschool

It has been a busy and exciting time working through the holidays. We learned many things about the first Thanksgiving; about the Pilgrims and the Indians and how they became friends. We prepared food for our families and sang the Thanksgiving songs we learned.

In December, we began practicing for our holiday show; learning the words to the songs and the sign language that is to accompany the song. We are thinking of gifts we will make for each other and for our families.

We continue to learn the letters of the alphabet. During letter G week, we transformed our classroom into a grocery store. We stocked the shelves with lots of food, set up a cashier stand, used the shopping carts and took turns being the bagger. We worked our fine motor muscles by clipping coupons and playing in GOOP! We played with real money by sorting coins, counting coins and playing games. It was a glorious week!

During letter H week we will learn about the many holidays that happen this time of year. We will have a parent come in and share traditions about Hanukah. We will learn about Kwanza and enjoy making decorations for Christmas. It will be hectic but happy!

When we return in 2012 we will begin the New Year learning about letter I. We will make igloos, ice cream and paint with ice pops.

Mini Mustang Preschool

It has been a busy and exciting time working through the holidays. We learned many things about the first Thanksgiving; about the Pilgrims and the Indians and how they became friends. We prepared food for our families and sang the Thanksgiving songs we learned.

In December, we began practicing for our holiday show; learning the words to the songs and the sign language that is to accompany the song. We are thinking of gifts we will make for each other and for our families.

We continue to learn the letters of the alphabet. During letter G week, we transformed our classroom into a grocery store. We stocked the shelves with lots of food, set up a cashier stand, used the shopping carts and took turns being the bagger. We worked our fine motor muscles by clipping coupons and playing in GOOP! We played with real money by sorting coins, counting coins and playing games. It was a glorious week!

During letter H week we will learn about the many holidays that happen this time of year. We will have a parent come in and share traditions about Hanukah. We will learn about Kwanza and enjoy making decorations for Christmas. It will be hectic but happy!

When we return in 2012 we will begin the New Year learning about letter I. We will make igloos, ice cream and paint with ice pops.

Mini Mustang Preschool

It has been a busy and exciting time working through the holidays. We learned many things about the first Thanksgiving; about the Pilgrims and the Indians and how they became friends. We prepared food for our families and sang the Thanksgiving songs we learned.

In December, we began practicing for our holiday show; learning the words to the songs and the sign language that is to accompany the song. We are thinking of gifts we will make for each other and for our families.

We continue to learn the letters of the alphabet. During letter G week, we transformed our classroom into a grocery store. We stocked the shelves with lots of food, set up a cashier stand, used the shopping carts and took turns being the bagger. We worked our fine motor muscles by clipping coupons and playing in GOOP! We played with real money by sorting coins, counting coins and playing games. It was a glorious week!

During letter H week we will learn about the many holidays that happen this time of year. We will have a parent come in and share traditions about Hanukah. We will learn about Kwanza and enjoy making decorations for Christmas. It will be hectic but happy!

When we return in 2012 we will begin the New Year learning about letter I. We will make igloos, ice cream and paint with ice pops.

Mini Mustang Preschool

It has been a busy and exciting time working through the holidays. We learned many things about the first Thanksgiving; about the Pilgrims and the Indians and how they became friends. We prepared food for our families and sang the Thanksgiving songs we learned.

In December, we began practicing for our holiday show; learning the words to the songs and the sign language that is to accompany the song. We are thinking of gifts we will make for each other and for our families.

We continue to learn the letters of the alphabet. During letter G week, we transformed our classroom into a grocery store. We stocked the shelves with lots of food, set up a cashier stand, used the shopping carts and took turns being the bagger. We worked our fine motor muscles by clipping coupons and playing in GOOP! We played with real money by sorting coins, counting coins and playing games. It was a glorious week!

During letter H week we will learn about the many holidays that happen this time of year. We will have a parent come in and share traditions about Hanukah. We will learn about Kwanza and enjoy making decorations for Christmas. It will be hectic but happy!

When we return in 2012 we will begin the New Year learning about letter I. We will make igloos, ice cream and paint with ice pops.

Mini Mustang Preschool

It has been a busy and exciting time working through the holidays. We learned many things about the first Thanksgiving; about the Pilgrims and the Indians and how they became friends. We prepared food for our families and sang the Thanksgiving songs we learned.

In December, we began practicing for our holiday show; learning the words to the songs and the sign language that is to accompany the song. We are thinking of gifts we will make for each other and for our families.

We continue to learn the letters of the alphabet. During letter G week, we transformed our classroom into a grocery store. We stocked the shelves with lots of food, set up a cashier stand, used the shopping carts and took turns being the bagger. We worked our fine motor muscles by clipping coupons and playing in GOOP! We played with real money by sorting coins, counting coins and playing games. It was a glorious week!

During letter H week we will learn about the many holidays that happen this time of year. We will have a parent come in and share traditions about Hanukah. We will learn about Kwanza and enjoy making decorations for Christmas. It will be hectic but happy!

When we return in 2012 we will begin the New Year learning about letter I. We will make igloos, ice cream and paint with ice pops.

